

Haun Saussy, University of Chicago

TITLE: Translation as Citation: Zhuangzi Inside Out (University of Chicago Press).

Citation:

Haun Saussy's Translation as Citation : Zhuangzi Inside Out (University of Chicago Press), is a path-breaking intervention into the history and theory of translation. Saussy's extensive historical-philological investigation of Chinese-European interlingual and literary exchanges over two millennia, in just over a hundred pages brilliantly demonstrates the creativity that is involved in the work of translation. The writing is lucid and elegant, the scholarship ambitious, and the method at once broad-ranging and sharply focused. Translation as Citation is sure to have a profound impact on translation studies, comparative literature and the humanities in general.